About Lynn

Lynn University is one of the most innovative, international and individualized small universities in America. We are a young and forward-thinking organization located alongside South Florida's booming business centers and beautiful beaches, and we are focused on one thing: preparing students for success.

Our professors concentrate on the art of teaching—making good students great and great students remarkable.

And our graduates? They've gained the intellectual flexibility and global experience to take the lead in an ever-changing world.

Step into the classroom

Our industry expert faculty will guide you as you study diverse theories in exceptional student education (ESE). Get involved with intense class discussions regarding federal and state governances in special education, and consider the various uses of technology in the classroom.

Then, get active. Participate in our annual Transitions conference (lynn.edu/transitions) and take notes from trailblazers in the field, as they discuss various topics in educating students with learning differences. Attend break-out sessions and contribute to the conversation. Build a rapport and a reputation as an ESE expert.

A wealth of opportunities

This program creates successful ESE teachers who can develop and implement strategies to assist students with various learning differences. As a graduate of our program, you'll hold the qualifications necessary to achieve such roles as:

- a highly qualified classroom teacher in ESE
- ESE contact at an individual school center
- co-teacher/support facilitator
- resource teacher in an ESE Area Office

Inspiring success

Graduates of this program have shared their knowledge and influence to benefit such education systems as:

- public school settings
- charter school settings
- select private school settings for students with disabilities
- state and national CEC conferences

Let classes commence

Assistant professor and coordinator of the M.Ed. in Exceptional Student Education program Marilyn A. Schiavo is happy to answer any questions you may have about the M.Ed. program. Call or email her at 561-237-7085 or MSchiavo@lynn.edu. (Ask her about her 35 years of service with the Palm Beach County School District, and her work with the Florida Inclusion Network!)
